"THE BENCH WARMER"

If you notice any pooped-out, stiff-legged and worn-out students looking like they have just been through the Battle of Bull R.... Don't call the medics, it's only the results of the Portland Junior College baseball practice being held under the auspices of Coach John (Simon Legree) Kershaw in the PJC Gym.

The schedule for practice is posted on the locker-room door. (Freddie-the-freeloader claims that anyone who can survive the gym practice sessions should be able to go ten full rounds with Canvasbak McK.O.)

As soon as the weather permits, Portland Junior Baseball practice will be held at the Deering Oaks.

Coach John Kershaw is looking forward to a few pre-schedule games with local high school teams.

Students who have gone out for this year's PJC baseball team are Simpson, Bob; Shane, Dick; Leonard, Ken; Boivin, Phil; Grant, Bert; Matthews, Ken; O'Gara, Bill; Nelson, Phil; Meloon, Moe; Harmon, Dan; Galli, John; Scammon, Frank; A fellow named Finch, Bill; DiPhillipo Jim; DiPhillipo, Sam; Smith, John; O'Donal, Relland; Higgins, Harley; and John Redmond.

Bob Kelley is the manager for this year's PJC team.

"AT WEDNESDAY'S ASSEMBLY"

George Mapes introduced the assembly. Don Haley gave an oration on the "PJC Stag Yearbook".

(Come on fellows put your application in now for a 1954 PJC Stag.) If you don't put in your application now, you may not be able to acquire a Stag later on. Think it over????????????

"You only go to school once."

Frank Stein gave a little speech pertaining to late-comers who interrupt classes.

Coach John Kershaw introduced the basketball team (1954) and informed the assembly that basketball letters will be awarded soon.

"THERE IS A NEW RULE ON THE PJC CAMPUSAS OF WEDNESDAY'S ASSEM."

Dean Bonney spoke briefly on he subject of liquor on the campus and reluctantly added a new ruling to be imposed at PJC.

This law is:

"There will be no liquor consumed or allowed on the Portland Junior College Campus."

"SOUND OFF"

Campus Interview

by Norm Richards

Here we are again with "Sound Off" the column that prints your opinion of things. This week our roving reporter interviewed several students with this question:

"Would you rather that PJC be Co-ed, or strictly Stag like it is?????"

We talked with Berry Hamilton, a Pre-college student, and Berry said: "I like it better with men only. The classes are more informal this way."

James "Clamdigger" Wolburg, Freshman, says: "I like it better stag, I learn better with no feminine distraction!"

Earl Hyler, Freshman, says: "I like it Stag better. The classes are more informal and there is a more intimate relationship between students and instructors than there would be with girls in the class."

We found one man (All 200 pounds) who would prefer PJC as a Co-ed school. Gerry Davis, (Local Liberace) says: "The admission of Co-eds should cause certain changes in the classrooms at Portland Junior College. During classes the boys would not stare moodily out the window, but would divert their undivided attention to the other sex. This should help improve student teacher relations."

How about it????? Want to sound off on your opinion of it????? Let us know, and we will print your opinion in the next issue of the PJC Newsance.
